What We Aim to Solve

We envision a world where domestic, sexual, and relationship violence, as well as abuse in later life is unacceptable. We know that domestic and sexual violence is not experienced in isolation from other life events, but is interwoven in people's lives in complex ways. Poverty, education, domestic and sexual violence, and homelessness are pieces of a complex puzzle. We know that women living in poverty are more likely to suffer from health problems and are more likely to be survivors of domestic violence. We also know that children who grow up impoverished are more likely to suffer from health issues, developmental delays, behavioral problems, lower academic achievement, and unemployment in adulthood. If we fail to address all pieces of the puzzle—we only perpetuate the cycle of poverty, homelessness, inequality—and domestic and sexual violence

Emergency Shelter

Alexandria House operates a 24-hour domestic and sexual violence emergency shelter and can accommodate up to 35 women and children at one time. All basic needs are provided for including food, toiletries, clothing, linens, diapers, and laundry facilities. We work with each client on an individual basis to help meet their needs.
